Defaulting Tax Gatherer.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The World's Middletown (N. Y.) special says: W. W. Cox, tax collector of Vernon, Sussex county, N. J., is reported a defaulter for $6,000. He collected January for $60,000, with assets at $15,000.

ST. PAUL, June 13.—Latest returns indicate the majority against the measure to provide against payment of the old State railroad bonds is about 1,000. The large towns generally favored, while the country strongly opposed it.

Stage Robbery.

HAT CREEK, Wy., June 14.—About 8:30 this morning, a coach from Deadwood was stopped by two road agents some 25 miles north of this place. The driver states that while coming through a narrow ravine, two men, who had been hidden by broken ground, suddenly sprang up about 10 yards ahead of him, one of whom covered him with his rifle and ordered him to halt, the other covering Skinner, the messenger, and ordered the messenger to throw out the treasure box. The messenger complied, and this seemed to satisfy them, for they immediately told the driver to go ahead. No attempt to rob or molest passengers (three men and one lady) was made. Both men had their faces blackened and were otherwise disguised.

Warmly Welcomed.

BOSTON, June 14.—Indications are that President Hayes will receive as warm a welcome as was ever accorded a President. Great preparations are being made.

The Northampton Bridge Disaster.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 14.—An eye witness describes the scene: The Hampshire superior court had just adjourned and there were many teams on the road leading to Hadley and Amherst. Suddenly the most violent rain ever known in the county sprang up accompanied with hail. People ran and drove from the bridge for shelter from the storm and a company of fifteen persons were beneath the roof of the bridge. Suddenly the heavy timbers began to creak and in a second the structure was raised bodily in the air and came thundering with a deafening crash into the river below. It was completely demolished by the fall. A gang of men from this city immediately went to the rescue. The bodies removed was Mrs. Sullivan, of Hadley, bruised and crushed beyond recognition; Sheriff Cook, of Hadley, was very severely bruised, and will probably die. George Smith, of Hadley, and W. W. Smith, of Amherst, received serious injuries, but will recover. Others were taken out alive and uninjured.

Georgia Constitutional Election.

ATLANTA, June 13.—Returns from fifty-three counties give 2,916 majority for convention. It will take several days to decide the result.

ATLANTA, June 14.—The majority for Convention, 10,000; northern counties almost unanimous for it.

Strange Standard of Sanity.

LOUISVILLE, June 13.—Miss T. Hawkins, a city socially prominent and highly connected, has been systematically obtaining from her mother money aggregating $40,000 under false pretense that she was engaged in tobacco speculations with a number of prominent gentlemen in Kentucky. She is regarded as insane.

Fast Train.

LOUISVILLE, June 13.—By a recent adjustment the schedule of the Louisville line makes the unprecedented time of 59 hours 10 minutes between New Orleans and New York, with correspondingly fast time to other Eastern cities.

A Novel Show.

CINCINNATI, June 13.—The Emery Arcade, opened to-night, is a novelty on this continent, resembling structures in Paris and Milan. It is 400 feet long, connecting two principal streets through the center of a square. The Arcade was brilliantly illuminated and decorated, and was visited by 40,000 people.

The Grasshopper Killers.

OMAHA, June 14.—The State and United States entomologists, after a careful examination, express a confident belief that the grasshoppers have nearly ceased to be a cause of danger in Nebraska.

Boat Race.

BOSTON, June 14.—At Silver Lake regatta to-day, Plaister won the single scull race, Burns and Maxwell the pair-oared contest and Colonial the working boat race, was won by the Lakeman boat company.

U. S. J.'s Income Tax.

NEW YORK, June 14.—In the suit of the United States against Samuel J. Tilden to recover $150,000, alledged as unpaid income taxes from '63 to '71, the complaint has been filed in the district court by the district attorney. The answer of Governor Tilden is returnable in about a week. The allegations in the complaint set forth the supposed income of Governor Tilden for each year in question and amount of tax paid.

Tweed as Confessional.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The following letter explains itself:

LUDLOW STREET JAIL, June 18, 1877.

To John D. Townsend, Esq.—Dear Sir: I wish you to take the necessary steps to at once enable me to secure judgment in all cases brought against me by either the city, county or State. My defenses in all these matters have been disclosed by me to the Attorney-General personally in several interviews, on his personal assurance to me that if I make such statement I should be released from imprisonment, and as you know also to yourself, I would in this case now to interpose a defense even had I a desire to do so, and thus save the city unnecessary further expense.

Your obedient servant,
WM. M. TWEED.

Tweed Despondent.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Tweed is very depressed in spirits and weaker in health. He despondes what he terms the injustice of compromise with Sweeney, and declares the four criminal indictments found against the latter would have led to his conviction had he not fled instead of remaining as Tweed did to meet the issue. Tweed says bitterly, that Connelly and Sweeney were as much in the swing frauds as himself. Sweeney's settlement is an admission of such complicity, and Tweed thinks he has a right to be as leniently treated as they have been.

Tweed's Friends Indignant.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times says Tweed's friends are indignant at the way he has been treated. His statement made to the Attorney-General under pledge of secrecy has, they say, been shown to a number of people, and it is asserted Tilden has a copy of it in his mansion, where it will be kept to be used in future to coerce persons who may be opposed to him in his political aspirations. They claim his means are utterly exhausted, and he is now confined to jail for the same amount, namely, $7,500,000, for which Sweeney was allowed to go free on payment of $100,000, a greater part of it from the estate of his deceased brother, who was one of the principal robbers of the city treasury.

Wants to Come Home.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Sun says: Fifteen months ago Connolly, who is in Switzerland, made a proposition to pay half a million to the city and return unmolested. The city demanded $700,000, which will probably be acceded to. Connolly is anxious to return.

A Shrewd Female Thief.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times says the actor George Rignold while stopping at a New York hotel was skillfully robbed of $8,000 worth of property, last Sunday, by a chambermaid who has not been arrested. The thief took everything of value, including an amethyst ring and cuff buttons, presented him by his San Francisco admirers. The woman who robbed Rignold also plundered the apartments of two families on the same floor of jewelry and money, aggregating several thousand dollars. On Monday last Joaquin Miller of the Sierras visited the police headquarters with one of the ladies whose jewelry was stolen and told the story of the robbery. The police took up the matter, Miller told reporters that his visit was simply one of curiosity and to keep up a delusion.

Cotton Destroyed.

LITTLE ROCK, June 13.—One half the cotton crop along the river may be considered destroyed.

Seventeen-Year Locusts.

NEWBURG, N. Y., June 13.—Seventeen-year locusts are here in abundance. They keep up a disagreeable humdrum noise, but farmers do not think they will be dangerous in destroying the crops. Chickens and turkeys feast on them, and consequently it will be a good year for poultry.

A Missing Banker.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The World says Adolph Greene, a banker, is missing. It is believed his liabilities are $20,000. Many poor Germans who deposited their earnings with him are lamenting his flight.

Another Defaulter.

NEW YORK, June 14.—A. Brossard, sixteen years, treasurer of the Society Francais de bien Faisances, of this city, is a defaulter to the amount of $20,000.

Nuptials.

NEWPORT, June 14.—President D. C. Gilman, formerly of the California University, was married here last evening to Miss Lillie Woolsey, niece of ex-President Woolsey, of Yale College and sister of Susan Coolidge, the well known authoress. The wedding party was confined to the family and a few prominent literary friends. Gilman and wife sail for Europe in a few days.

Mail Route Fixed.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The secretary of war and postmaster general have written to the adjutant of the military division of the Missouri officially recognizing a mail route from Fort Pierre, Dakota, across the Sioux reservation to the Black Hills.

Smuggling Laces.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Twenty thousand dollars' worth of laces were found to-day by inspector Chapman with three persons, two women and a man in the steamer Herda from Hamburg.

Mormonism Shaken.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Herald's Salt Lake special says Mormonism is so shaken in its very bones by the power given to Howard's elbow at Washington, and by the partial intimations of evidence in his possession in regard to the priesthood that the latter is kept very busy at the Lion house. Several secret meetings have been held there during the past few days. The organization for future resistance to probable arrests which have been effected by subborned or ignorant newspapers are proceeding with greater energy as well as secrecy than before. Mormon emissaries are on their way East and West, and Mormon missionaries already established in the East have received instructions to use every means to counteract the effect of the Herald's revelations.

The German Ministry.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Herald's cable says Bancroft Davis has resigned as minister to Germany.

Turning out Second Lieutenants.

WEST POINT, June 14.—Nearly 5,000 people witnessed the closing exercises of the graduating class to-day. The first address was delivered by Prof. Thompson, president of the board of visitors, followed by Gen. Hancock, after which the members of the class were presented with their diplomas by the superintendent of the post. The Secretary of War and Gen. Sherman also briefly addressed the class. Many of the graduates left to-day on furlough.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Silver Question.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A special from Washington says the administration undoubtedly has agreed upon the policy of remonetizing silver. It is held it is not wise for us to cast silver out entirely and permanently, that the theory of a double standard is the true one; that if we remonetize silver, this alone will tend to steady its value and price the world over, and that it is no improbable that some European nations will find it prudent and even necessary to follow our example. It is said Germany has found greater difficulty than was anticipated in turning silver out of use, and that the German government has found that the Empire had more silver and less gold than was originally believed, and that serious difficulties are now before the government in its attempt to abolish silver. The remonetization of silver according to the ideas and plans of the administration will be only the extension and completion of the original substitution of silver for fractional currency. Silver for small change was coined by the government and exchanged on demand of holders of fractional currency, which was at once canceled and destroyed. This step is now substantially completed. It is calculated about $8,000,000 of fractional currency remain out, and probably a greater part of this will never come in for redemption, but is lost or worn out. The next step is for the government to coin silver dollars with which to redeem legal tenders or greenbacks on demand of holders. It is remarked that this will be genuine redemption, inasmuch as it will give actual value for promises to pay. It is further remarked that silver has always been the money of the people; that the man who works for weekly wages keeps no gold in his pockets. Gold is not hoarded, but silver; and it is on money in pockets of people and hidden away in fire places and old stockings, and not on deposits in banks, that the country has to depend in panic or other emergency.

Western Democrats and Silver.

News here from the West is to the effect that the Democrats are divided upon the questions whether to demand silver in addition to legal tenders now out, and therefore as a matter of inflation, or a substitute for legal tenders. If they determine on the latter course they may lose the Cooper and Carey and inflationists. If on the former, they carry the inflationists with them, but disgust the anti-inflation Democrats. The dilemma is likely to prove troublesome, and Republicans feel more confident at this time of carrying Ohio than they did some time ago. It is not impossible, however, that some new issues may be flung into the canvass in that State which may affect the result of the election to an important degree.

Sherman's Financial Policy.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Sun's Washington special says: Stanley Matthews, this evening, after two days spent in interviewing at the White House, recorded himself in favor (to quote him) of the remonitization of the silver dollar, the dollar of our fathers. Both conventions in his own State this fall, in his opinion, will call for the remonitization of the silver dollar, but while both parties will call for the same step they will do it from widely different motives. Democrats will call for remonitization of the silver dollar as a step toward inflation, while Republicans will ask it as a step in aid of the resumption of specie payments. Matthews did not explain this evening where the difference would be between identical steps taken from different motives. As to other political principles, Matthews is a little misty. Democrats, he feels certain, will pass a platform denouncing the President's title as fraudulent, and approving the prosecution of his policy, of which they will claim the Democratic party has letters patent. As to the attitude which he expects the Republican convention will take on these matters, Matthews does not express himself.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The World's Washington special says: Both the President and Secretary Sherman have expressed themselves strongly in private to the effect that if silver is to be made a legal tender, custom dues and any interest or principal of public debt must be expressly exempted from operation of the act.

Senator Jones Converted.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Senator Jones is a convert to Gen. Butler's ideas, and is now as strongly in favor of paper money as he was three years ago in favor of gold and silver exclusively, when he influenced Grant to stand by the hard money doctrine. His friends were never expected to see him in active accord with the very men who he then denounced. It is understood that Dr. Linderman will recommend in his annual report the coinage of $2 gold pieces to take the place of $2 50 gold pieces.

Fractional Currency Destroyed.

The commission appointed to investigate the subject having reported that at least $8,000,000 of fractional currency is destroyed it is believed that the attorney general will decide that this amount of silver can be put out to take its place. The $50,000,000 of silver which the treasury authorized to be put in circulation has been paid out already and also nearly $4,000,000 which had been issued over the amount allowed by law. This will probably have to be deducted.

The Fractional Currency.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times Washington special says the public debt statement for June will show a large reduction in outstanding fractional currency, for the reason that the Treasury Department is now paying the cost of transportation incurred in forwarding fractional currency to the treasury and the shipment of silver coin in exchange. This course was adopted in order to encourage and expedite the work of redemption. Prior to January 1st the cost of transportation both ways had to be borne by the parties for whom the redemption was made. In some sections of the South and West the banks are responsible for any scarcity of silver that may exist, because any amount may be obtained in exchange for fractional currency without expense.

Result of Remonetizing Silver.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Times' Washington special says: With reference to restoration of the silver dollar to the status it had prior to the act of 1873, Sherman says, the conditions are such now that restoration would be unwise. Then all the Latin nations were coining silver money at the rate of 15½ to one. Then there was a market for our silver. No demand for it now. France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Belgium are not coining any silver. It has become a drug in a glutted market, and if we were to restore the silver dollar as it was before the act of 1873, we would be compelled to buy the surplus silver at ruinously high prices. Silver must be worth as much or more than gold before we can hope to have the silver dollar of our forefathers in all that term implies. The silver dollar advocates, in the opinion of the Secretary, are losing sight of some very important land marks and becoming somewhat extravagant. That we must permit any man who happens to own an old teapot to rush off and have it coined into silver dollars which he may put in circulation immediately says the Secretary, is simply absurd.

Small Greenbacks.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The issue of one and two dollar greenbacks was discontinued at the treasury.

An Old Filibuster Dead.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Gen. C. A. Henningsen, well known in years past in connection with the Walker expedition to Cuba, died to-day, aged 62 years.

The Great Sensation.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says: It is believed that the great sensation of next Congress will not be an attack on President Hayes by the Republicans, but a movement by Democrats to declare Tilden elected and take measures for his recognition. Republicans regard the speeches of Tilden and Hendricks as very significant, as being carefully prepared after full and deliberate consultation with prominent Democrats from all parts of the country, each knowing what the other would say. Sagacious Eastern Republicans express the opinion that the Democrats are looking to an early control of the Senate as well as of the House, and when they obtain this they will refuse further appropriations for President Hayes and recognize Tilden instead, only appropriating upon his estimates. Some of the best known Democratic followers of Tilden are confident of controlling the Senate at least by the middle of Hayes' term. House Democrats are considering a plan to investigate all alleged bargains made by Foster, Matthews, et al, for a continuation of the electoral count.

A Very Solemn Man.

Matthews sits in a solemn way, with an empty chair at his elbow. One man takes it. Matthews gives him a solemn hand. Matthews shakes hands as if he was going to feel your pulse and turns a solemn ear to his story. When he gets through, Matthews will make a memorandum and bows some assurance. The man gets out and another gets in. Ohio men enjoy this sort of thing. Foster grew sounder and jollier under it every day while he was here and his reception was no comparison to Matthews who gets solemn and preoccupied under the strain of minute fibs when he is telling the men whose names he forgets and whose claims he doesn't press.

Asking for Troops.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The Times' Washington special says some time ago a raid on illicit distilleries in southwestern Virginia was made in which a citizen who accompanied the collector's party was killed. To-day Commissioner Raum received a letter signed by about 50 prominent citizens of that locality, among whom are two county judges, two district attorneys and other officials, asking that sufficient force be sent to co-operate with them in bringing the illicit distillers to justice.

Efforts to Fix Illinois Appointments.

NEW YORK, June 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says: Gov. Cullom and Senator Oglesby, of Illinois, who have been here for several days for the purpose of arranging for federal offices in their State, have left for home without accomplishing anything. The President gave them repeated audience, but carefully refrained from making any promises. Cullom said before leaving that the newspapers had charged him with coming here to get everything and that he has succeeded in getting nothing. The principal points which he and the Senator wanted to carry were to have Sheridan Waite made collector at Chicago, and to have the previous office remain at Springfield after consolidation, and Pension Agent Jesse Moore to be retained.

The 4 per Cent. Loan.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Journal's special from Washington says the Treasury Department will to-day issue an advertisement inviting subscriptions to the 4 per cent. loan. Secretary Sherman's proposal to the syndicate that subscriptions at par be allowed until the 31st of July has been repeated, the syndicate holding to the original agreement, namely, thirty days from June 16th. Therefore the public will have until the 16th of July to subscribe. The bonds will bear date of July 1st.

The President's Movements.

The World's Washington special says: The President leaves for Boston on the 25th. He will go to New Hampshire, and visit Providence. Soon after the 4th of July he goes to Richmond and Petersburg, and perhaps to White Sulphur Springs. Some time during the summer he will go to Vermont.

Wants Recognition.

NEW YORK, June 14.—The World's Washington special says: Senor Romero has written a private letter here urging the recognition of the Diaz government. He thinks that government will be stable. One main hope of the opposition to it in Mexico rests on its non-recognition by the United States. In the interests of peace Romero, who is popular at Washington, appeals for an early decision in favor of Diaz.

Unusual Benevolence.

The World's Washington special says the well known philanthropist, W. W. Corcoran, distributed $20,000 among poor men and women who were recently thrown out of employment by reason of reduction in the departments.

Getting out of his Province.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Secretary Sherman, without denying that Assistant Secretary French holds that all bonds issued since the demonetization of silver are payable in gold, only denies that he has authorized official concurrence in such opinion, and intimates that French, whose department is customs affairs, has exceeded his province.

The 30 Year Bonds.

The syndicate gave notice that new bonds are redeemable after 30 years from July 1, 1877, and carry interest from that day, payable quarterly, and are exempt from payment of tax on duties to the United States as well as from taxation in any form by or under State, municipal or local authority. Subscriptions will be for coupon bonds of $50 and $100, and registered stock in denominations of 50, 100, 500, 1,000, 5,000 and 10,000 dollars. Forms of application will be furnished by the Treasurer at Washington and assistant treasurers throughout the country, and by national banks and bankers generally. Two per cent. of purchase money must accompany subscriptions, the remainder may be paid at pleasure of purchaser either at the time of subscription or at any time prior to October 16th, with interest added at four per cent. till time of payment. Payments may be made in gold coin to the U. S. Treasurer at Washington, or assistant treasurers; also to assistant treasurer at San Francisco, with exchange on New York, and to the syndicate. To promote the convenience of subscribers the syndicate will also receive in lieu of coin U. S. notes or drafts on New York at their coin value on the day of receipt in New York.

The Southern Support.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Several delegations from different parts of the South have visited the President within a few days and have without exception assured the President of the hearty acquiescence of the people of their respective sections in the policy which they understand is guiding the administration in so far as it relates to the control of offices in the Southwestern States.

Probable Appointments.

CHICAGO, June 14.—A Washington special says D. L. Phillips who made the special report to the treasury on the San Francisco custom and revenue departments in 1876, has been appointed postmaster at Springfield, Ill., and that Hon. Joseph Medill, of the Chicago Tribune, will probably be Indian commissioner.

ROME, June 13.—A personage of high position has directly inquired of the Holy See how it would look upon a Bonapartist movement in France. On its reply a more or less energetic system of agitation would depend, but the Vatican has made no sign.

Calmness Advised.

PARIS, June 14.—Leaders of the Left are resolved to maintain perfect calm in the chamber on Saturday when M. Gambetta's interpellation is presented, so that the debate may bear all possible fruit. They also appeal to Republicans not to go to the railway station to witness the arrival or departure of deputies, or make other demonstrations. The irreconcilable radical leader, M. Madier de Montjau, has promised not to speak in Saturday's debate, and will leave the direction of proceedings to other groups of the Left.

Grant in England.

LONDON, June 13.—Gen. Grant has written the Mayor of Southampton that previous engagements prevent his accepting the invitation to the hospitalities of that city at present, but he hopes to visit the town later in the summer. A special performance will be given at the Royal Italian Opera, Covent Garden, June 22d, in honor of Gen. Grant. Grant was not present at Oxford commemoration. The students while waiting for recitation of various prize poems and other portions of the program me, have a custom of cheering or hissing the names of public characters. All papers this morning remark peculiarly hearty reception evoked by Gen. Grant's name which was one of the first proposed.

The following is the revised programme of Grant's movements: Friday morning he receives the freedom of the city of London, Friday afternoon attends the fete at Crystal Palace, Saturday General and Mrs. Grant dine with the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise at Kensington Palace; Monday morning breakfast with Geo. W. Smalley, Monday evening dine at Reform Club, Lord Granville presiding; Tuesday attend the fete at Alexandra Palace; Wednesday dine with Lord Ripon; Thursday meet Prince of Wales at a dinner given at the American embassy; Friday morning he takes up his residence with Consul General Badeau; Friday evening attends state performance at the opera and subsequently the Queen's ball given at Buckingham Palace.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

Montenegrin Weakness.

VIENNA, June 13.—For some days past the impression has been growing in Russian circles that Montenegrins are not able to resist the overwhelmingly superior forces of the Turks, and the Austrian government was sounded as to how far it might be disposed to do something to prevent their being crushed.

Servia Must Stand Aloof.

VIENNA, June 14.—Just at the moment when Prince Milan has received permission to go to Ploiesti information comes that Russia has intimated far more positively than ever before that it is her will that Servia should keep aloof from the present war, which cannot but lead to a supposition that what finally induced the Czar to accept a visit may be a wish to remove any doubts of Servia about what was expected of her.

Roumania Probably Allowed to Fight.

PARIS, June 13.—According to news from Ploiesti, Prince Charles offered the co-operation of the Roumanian army on conditions which seem in principle acceptable to the Russian staff.

Hungry Nicsic.

VIENNA, June 13.—Suleiman Pasha started yesterday to revictual Nicsic for a year.

A Sanguinary Fight.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—An official telegram of June 13, says Suleiman Pasha has forced the entrance of Duga pass after a sanguinary battle, and is advancing on Nicsic. Montenegrins are in full retreat. Suleiman's junction with two other Turkish corps is expected immediately.

Time to Cross.

LONDON, June 14.—Probably no attempt will be made to cross the Danube before July. This supposition is strengthened by the present state of the Danube. The enemy will likely be on the alert on account of the Czar's arrival at headquarters, and therefore instead of the Czar's arrival being an indication of immediate activity, it is much more probable it will be allowed to lose its awakening effect on the Turks and that they will be suffered to relapse into their usual lethargic state.

Hospital Arrangements by Russia.

BERLIN, June 4.—The Russians have organized field hospitals containing 20,000 beds to be distributed over Roumania and adjoining districts. This provision for the sick and wounded is thought to be sufficient for all emergencies.

Operations in Asia.

BATOUM, June 13.—Russians are pushing their siege works. Reinforcements are greatly needed. Without relief the troops there will become tired out. Turkish officers are despondent.

The Russians have massed around Kars all the troops which they brought from Ardahan, Gurney, Kogesehman and Sourcamiche. For several days they have attempted to storm Forts Tahomey and Karadagh, but on every occasion have been repulsed. Saturday they made desperate efforts to take possession of some of the heights, when the garrison made a sortie, and with field artillery repulsed the Russians with great loss. There are no Russian soldiers between Olti and Erzeroum.

ERZEROUM, June 14.—The Turks after occupying Olti march in the direction of Ardahan.

A Russian detachment has been sent from Ardahan to reinforce the center.

Twelve battalions of troops, a field battery and four mounted guns, left Delibaba to attack the column of the Russian left wing before Toprak Kaleh.

Great Battle at Kars.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 13.—The Sultan is staying at the ministry of war awaiting news from Kars where a great battle is progressing.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 14.—Three attacks were made Friday by the Russians against Fort Tamaz, erected to strengthen the defense of fort Velipachi, the keys to Kars. The attacks followed on Saturday; result unknown.

A dispatch from Lieutenant General Mehemed Ali announces the defeat of Montegrins at Atchina.

Defense of Kars.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 14.—Turks are attempting to form counter approaches at Kars, but are constantly making sorties. The Russian batteries have been very successful in frustrating all these attemps. Sorties were yesterday repulsed with a heavy loss to the Turks. Several Russians were slightly wounded.

Salisbury's Attitude.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The Tribune's London special says: The Pall Mall Gazette, commenting on the war question says: The progress of the Russians has been long regarded, by the closest and most capable observers, as troublesome to English rule in India. We do not believe in the claim of protection on the ground of complete neutrality, for such movements on the part of officials, is anything more than an exaggerated display of official discretion. After reviewing the Marquis of Salisbury's prominent connection with the famous conference, the editor concludes by asking, "How far does anger at our moss, natural, inevitable and humiliating failure at Constantinople inspire him? In short, what is he driving at and what are his motives?" We have a right to ask this. It is not Lord Salisbury's private business to be decided from persona predilections, and though he seems to think that the government goes wrong and jeopardizes the future of the country, the rabble will be sufficiently compensated by the honor of driving from office personages so distinguished as the Marquis of Salisbury, he therein mistakes his position and ours." To any one conversant with the tone of the London papers, it will be seen that this is about the strongest language that can be used.

Anglo-Russian Diplomacy.

VIENNA, June 13.—A St. Petersburg letter states that Count Schouvaloff took to St. Petersburg a specimen of British interest as contained in Mr. Cross' speech in the British Parliament. Count Schouvaloff's instructions on his return to London empowered him to declare that Russia has no designs against the Suez canal or Egypt. His instructions restricted him to this declaration. Nothing is known in St. Petersburg of any semi-official note to Lord Derby. Lord Derby's reply to Prince Gortschakoff's circular has not to the present received no answer, as the Russian cabinet considers it couched in curt and unusual terms. There is still, however, a possibility that Russia will, on the occasion immediately pending passage of the Danube, again set forth her views.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 14.—The Porte is expected to reply to the English notification regarding the Suez canal, that it considers the canal Turkish property, and as Turkey has to fight her enemies through Suez, she has obviously a right to oppose them on her own territory. At the same time she recognizes the great importance of the canal to the whole world, and will try to prevent it from becoming the scene of hostilities by occupying each end with troops so as to prevent the entrance of any Russian ships. Turkish newspapers in referring to the peace rumors lately current are strongly adverse to peace, and dismiss the subject as unworthy of discussion.

Russian Finances.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 15, 1877.

COLLAPSE OF TURKEY.

All observers of the theater of the war concur in the belief that it is impossible for the Turks to make protracted resistance to the tremendous power with which Russia is able to assail them. So far, the attack has been feeble and irregular. But it is believed it must soon become a concerted, impetuous and resistless movement. Correspondents bear uniform testimony to the inadequacy of Turkish preparation. The Osmanli, indeed, are not wanting in bravery, but the soldier goes unprovided. The revenues are wasted by a corrupt and moribund government; every branch of the military service is inefficient, and though there is a show of power, it must collapse under the first real pressure of the Russian forces directed in simultaneous effort. On these subjects English journals possess more accurate information than any others. Especially significant are the editorial articles of the London Times. That paper is convinced that "the world is seeing the last of Turkey; her visible and awful changes are not those of development but of dissolution." Then comes the question: "Can England make her once more a living thing? Is it possible? Is it desirable? Is it even right?"

A time comes in the decay of nations when no power can arrest the downward tendency. The Times frankly confesses that Turkey is in this condition and that even England cannot save her. It is one of those great catastrophes which occur in so impressive a way, and become landmarks in history. To quote again: "Whatever Turkey does, whether she be steeped in her ancient poverty or rich with fresh loans, whether left to herself, or strong in European alliances, she is still sinking deeth below depth, and falling to pieces. The Turks are incapable of representative institutions and constitutional government." After showing that no power will move first to support that which none can feel ought to be supported, and that no reason exists why England should throw herself into the ditch to make a bridge for those who come after, the great newspaper thus states the philosophy of the impending downfall, as seen in the great sweep of history.

This is the Eastern counterpart of that final catastrophe which fell on the western half of the Roman Empire many centuries ago. The western half broke up first because Rome had become the weakest capital, and the western nations the strongest enemies. Constantinople survived because she was herself the stronger of the two capitals, and the foes she had to deal with were themselves conquered and effeminate Asiatics. The Turks found the seat of empire and they filled it, giving another lease of life to the eastern half of the Roman power. For four centuries they have succeeded in turning the tide of human affairs, and making it flow backward toward barbarism. For four centuries, thanks to their own instinctive obstinacy and the fatal divisions of the continent, they have substituted a long reign of terror for the works of peaceful centuries. For more than a thousand years, over all the countries now possessed or claimed by Turkey, the law of the land was that civil code which is the foundation of all modern law, and which everywhere secured justice wherever the people were capable of it. That is enough to show how the world has gone back under Turkey, and what an intrusive barrier it is her very nature and call to be. Yet she has but interposed a respite to a sentence of dissolution, and the Turkish Empire, already scarcely coherent, must fall to pieces, as the Western Empire fell to pieces long ago, and is now in pieces, of which we are one.

EASTERN OREGON WOOL.

In a recent article on Oregon wools we made the following remark on the wool of the eastern parts of the State:

> The alkali dust makes it impossible to grow the combing and delaine staple with any degree of success; but the fine clothing stock which they produce is always valuable and commands good prices.

The East Oregonian thinks this reference to alkali dust and its supposed deleterious effects on the wool of the eastern portion of the State quite erroneous and unjust. That paper intimates that the wool of the eastern division is superior to that of the western; but this is a point on which we shall enter into no dispute. The statement we made was derived from the best information obtainable from persons in the wool trade here. Nothing could have been farther from the design of the article than injury to any wool-grower's interest. But it was thought proper enough to state a distinction which is made in the market.

It is true enough that the section east of the Cascade mountains is not a continuous alkali desert. It is probably true also that the prevalence of alkali dust in wool grown there is often much exaggerated. The force of the objection against wool so affected is, however, acknowledged by the paper above named when it says "there is a disposition on the part of the farmers to have their flocks kept clear from occasional strips of country more or less affected with alkali."

Speaking of long staple, the same paper has it from Mr. Samuel Pearson, grader for Barnard, Lee & Co., of Pendleton, that he finds there "some as fine combing wool as ever left Ohio for Eastern factories." It is also stated that "there is no portion of this northwestern slope where combing wools can be raised so good or so profitably as among the foot hills on the eastern part of the State." We give place and circulation to these statements, because we think it right that the claims of those who speak for the wool of Eastern Oregon, with a view of disproving a common impression as to the point indicated, should have a proper hearing. What we desire is to call forth the facts.

A notion has been prevalent in Oregon and generally throughout the States that adhered to the national cause during the war of the rebellion, that the theory and doctrine of government on which the Southern Confederacy was based were things of the past. For some years therefore people have not been giving much attention to the resolutions of '98 and the Confederate idea. Perhaps few in Oregon are aware that there exists a paper in Portland whose whole political philosophy is the doctrine of the Confederacy. Not many see the paper alluded to, and its obsolete ideas and anachronisms are of no particular consequence; but it may be worth a paragraph in a paper of general circulation to speak of so curious a relic, which has survived the fall of Richmond and the surrender at Appomattox. All its political ideas are derived from the resolutions of '98 and the Confederate declaration of independence. It imagines it has a commission to overturn national principles and set up the doctrine that the government is only a league of States. Moreover it is so pleased with its own performance that it prints the same thing a hundred a times over, and imagines every time it is delivering a new revelation. It has a right, of course, to pursue the harmless amusement of flying the last Standard of the lost cause. But the earnestness with which it is done reminds one of the heroic whim-whams of George Francis Train.

For ten months of the present fiscal year exports from the United States have so far exceeded the imports as to show a balance in our favor of $154,052,723. For the corresponding period last year the balance was $90 068,567. Even the movement of gold and silver shows a balance in favor of this country during the last ten months of $3,046,322. For a long period, and till two years ago the current of trade ran heavily against us. Imports of merchandise exceeded the exports by prodigious sums, and the balance had to be made good by transfer of specie and bonds. The turning point was reached unexpectedly, and there have since been steadily accumulating balances in our favor. This year the balance will be nearly double that of last. A like ratio for the other two months of the year, for which returns cannot be made up till after 30th June, would show a balance of about one hundred and eighty millions on our side of the ledger. Under such results national prosperity must soon be restored.

In this suggestion from the New York Times there is a text for profitable meditation:

> The danger which most threatens the integrity and future of the Republican organization arises from the evenly balanced strength of parties in Congress, and the consequent temptation to enter into bargains for the attainment of corrupt or otherwise unworthy ends.

Arguing at length against bargains whereby, in consideration of votes on one side, subsidies are to be conceded on the other, the Times sums up thus:

> The Republican party at the North can outlive the loss of Southern votes. What would crush it would be the odium inseparable from trafficking for votes at the cost of the national Treasury.

Once more we have startling news from Nicsic. The place is to be revictualed. This is the fourth time since the war began. Never before did garrison eat like this one. A general bulimy seems to prevail, as if all the hungry brothers of the Ottoman empire were collected at that one place. Better move that garrison nearer to Constantinople, or to some point on the sea coast where it will be less expense to feed it. The Porte may for a time defend itself against the Russians, but its treasury can't always sustain these tremendous drafts from Nicsic on the commissary department.

Eastern papers generally assert that the recent political meeting at Washington has no political significance whatever. It was composed of a seedy set of office-hunters, and their proceedings, says a correspondent, "would scarcely have been deemed worthy of notice but for the effort on their part to convey an impression to the country that the affair was in the interest of Mr. Blaine, if not directly instigated by him. Blaine's friends disclaim the imputation upon his good sense, and appear very anxious that his reputation shall not suffer from the ill-advised movement, whatever its objects may have been."

The subject doesn't require an essay. It can be fully treated in this brief yet thoroughly comprehensive manner:

> [Hayes' Letter of Acceptance.] [Washington Dispatch, June 1877.]
>
> The founders of the Secretary Sherman has government meant that informer Talbot. Solicthe public officer should itor of the Treasury, that be secure in his tenure as he would like to have his long as his personal char resignation, as political acter remained unstained necessity required that and the performance of his duties satisfactory. If elected, I shall conduct the administration of the government on these principles.
> The latest statistics of mortality show that St. Louis is the healthiest of all the large cities, the ratio per 1,000 being 11.07, to 17.74 for Chicago, 15.35 for Cincinnati, 19.62 for Boston, 20.47 for Philadelphia, 26.56 for Brooklyn, 21.87 for Baltimore, and 22.78 for New York. But it ought to be explained that the reason why St. Louis appears to have this advantage is because her population, which does not much exceed 300,000, is reckoned at above 500,000.

A few words often greatly relieve the surcharged heart. Referring to the lugubrious scene at the rooms of the Manhattan Club at New York, a mourning organ near us finds comfort in talking of the speeches of "President Tilden" and "Vice President Hendricks." Now let us have peace.

It seems probable now that we shall have two party tickets for the city election, and none other. From all appearances the movement for an independent ticket is making little progress, and probably it will be dropped.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES!

DR. M. S. SASSARETH,

A CERTAIN VERY DISTINGUISHED FRENCH OCULIST, (of over 25 years experience), arrived here on the steamer City of Chester, and is now stopping at Room No 1, St. Charles Hotel, where he will remain until the 21st of June. His office hours are from 10 to 5 P. M. Consultation free.

One of the leading papers of Indiana says of Dr. Sassareth: "He is without doubt a very scientific man, who has thoroughly studied the eye, and fully understands all the diseases and defects to which it is subject. He treats these, removes all obstructions, and performs the most difficult operations when necessary; but the best remedy he furnishes for the defective eyesight is the most perfect glasses we ever saw. Looking through a pair of his glasses is like having a pair of new eyes. The pleasure and satisfaction can only be realized by actual trial. These glasses are made upon the most scientific principle, and therefore are not only just what is needed, but so perfect that the person using them is scarcely aware that any glasses at all are before his eyes. Dr. S has treated most successfully a number of our leading citizens, and we notice that he is patronized by the best informed people wherever he goes."

Dr. Glick, an eminent physician, writes as follows to Dr. Sassareth: "Having enjoyed the use of your eye glasses as adapted to my eyes by you in person, I feel that I would be derelict in my duty to those similarly afflicted as I am, if I did not make this acknowledgement of gratitude to you. My glasses, both for reading and walking, give me entire satisfaction."

Says the Delphi (Indiana) Journal: "We are exceedingly cautious in recommending traveling physicians, yet when we find one whose talents and skill are endorsed by the best medical men in the State, we feel that we run no risk in presenting him in the most favorable light. We have just met one whom we can certainly endorse. We allude to Dr. Sassareth, an eminent French Oculist, who is very highly recommended by Dr. Fitch of Logansport, Drs. Glick, O Farrell and other physicians of Lafayette, and scores of the best citizens of both places."

The South Bend Register speaks thus of the great skill of Dr. Sassareth: "The Dr is a very scientific oculist and thoroughly understands the delicate organism of the eye. * * * He has treated with the most gratifying results a number of our leading citizens, including ex Vice President Colfax."

A. P. Palmer, a prominent member of the City Bank of Albany, New York, says: "I take great pleasure in referring to the time about five years ago; when you furnished me with the first eye glasses I ever had occasion to use, and to bear testimony to the correctness of your judgment in the selection of those so admirably adapted to my sight."

DR. SASSARETH expects to remain only about a fortnight in Portland. His time is limited, and those who wish to consult him should call early. He can be seen every day between 1 and 5 o'clock P. M.

OFFICE OF INSURANCE COMMISSIONER, San Francisco, Feb. 5, 1877.

I, J. W. Foard, hereby certify that I am Insurance Commissioner of the State of California, and have supervision of insurance business in the State, and as such Commissioner, further certify that the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California is a corporation properly organized under the laws of this State, and being in a solvent condition and possessed of a paid up capital of One Hundred Thousand Dollars, equal to Gold Coin of the United States, is authorized to do business in the State. And I further certify that, upon a personal examination of the books and papers of the said company at the close of the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six, its statement as of this date, and now on file in this office, was shown to be correct and true, the company being possessed of good, valid assets amounting to one million two hundred and sixty-four thousand eight hundred and thirty-six dollars and eighty-six cents ($1,264,836 86), and having outstanding liabilities, as defined by the laws of the State, amounting to nine hundred and sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars and five cents ($916,750 05), exclusive of the Capital Stock.

In witness my hand and official seal, the day and year first above written.

L.S. J. W. FOARD,
Insurance Commissioner.

[Extract from Report of A. D. Smith, ex-Deputy Insurance Commissioner.]

J. G. EDWARDS, Publisher Coast Review.

Dear Sir:—In pursuance of your request I have made an examination of the Assets and Liabilities of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of California, as they existed on the 31st day of December, 1876, as shown by the books and papers of the Company, and as a result of such examination I beg to report as follows:

* * * * * * *

Total Assets, Gold.....$1,281,847 59
Re-Insurance Reserve, American Experience, 4½ per ct. $886,031 49
Claims for Death Losses..... 28,700 00
Due on Account Salaries and Rents..... 2,019 02

Total Liabilities, Gold..... 916,750 51

Net surplus to Policy-holders, Gold..... $365,097 08
Company's paid-up Capital.....$100,000 00

The above is, I believe, a true and fair statement of the Company's condition Dec. 31, 1876.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I found the Company's business thoroughly systematized—its books and papers in excellent condition and neatly kept. Every facility was extended to me by all the officers and employees of the Company to enable me to make my examination thorough. Books, papers, and accounts were freely exhibited to me. There was no attempt to hold back or conceal anything. I am satisfied the Company courts the most rigid scrutiny. For courteous treatment, I beg to return thanks to the officers and attaches of the Company.

Respectfully submitted. A. D. SMITH.

SUNDAY MORNING, JUNE 15, 1877.

CITY.

FROM EUGENE TO ALBANY IN A SKIFF.—Col. Wilson returned Wednesday morning from a trip on the upper Wilamette. He left Eugene City with Mr. Habersham in a small skiff Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and reached Albany by 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, the two gentlemen having rowed the entire distance, 68 miles, camping out at night about four miles above Harrisburg. The object was to carefully examine the upper river between Eugene and Albany, which was found in much better condition than was expected. The snag boat was found doing very good work about five miles above Corvallis, and the pile drivers were at work constructing wingdams at Half Moon Bend below Corvallis. On the trip these gentlemen exhumed, about eight miles above Peoria, part of an elephant's tusk, which was found in a thin stratum of marl at the top of the drift formation about twenty feet below the surface of the ground. The recent high water had washed the vertical bank of the river considerably and the edge of the tusk was visible, and by digging around it was got out. It is very brittle and partially fell to pieces soon after it was exposed to the air.

IMPORTANT ACTION.—At a meeting of the directors of the "South Portland Real Estate Association," held last evening, this Company resolved to dedicate all the streets represented in the map of Caruthers' Addition to sale and recorded by C. S. Silver, administrator, and to adopt and approve the map recorded by such administrator; and the officers of the company were authorized to prepare and record a map of Caruthers' Addition, embodying the action of the Board. The President and Secretary were further authorized to execute and deliver confirmatory deeds to holders of lots under administrators' sales upon payment of $5 per lot; to cover expense of deed, and the company pledged the first $500 received for such deeds toward the building of bridges on the Slavin's Pass road, likely located south from First street, when the same is ordered opened by the County Court. This company controls a large property in the southern portion of the city, and this action looks to a forward movement in real property in that neighborhood.

RETURN OF OREGON'S BOYS.—In the list of passengers which have arrived by the last two steamers from San Francisco, we notice the names of several young gentlemen from this State who have been in California and elsewhere for the past year laboring most arduously for that precious gift, knowledge; and we could judge from the munificent amount of diplomas, certificates, and other prizes which the students have in their possession, that their labors have been amply crowned with success. The various universities and colleges which they have attended, having closed for the annual vacation, they return to mingle during that intermission in the healthful clime of their Western home.

INSANE.—Yesterday a German named Geo. Tendis was examined before Judge Woodward on a charge of lunacy. Dr. Saylor was the examining physician, and after subjecting the man to the usual test, pronounced him insane. Judge Woodward accordingly issued papers committing the unfortunate man to the asylum, to which institution he was conveyed yesterday afternoon. Tendis is aged about 32 years. He has resided in this State for the past two years, during most of which time he has been employed as a deck hand upon the river steamers. He labors under the insane idea that some person is intent on poisoning him.

FIRST COMMUNION.—Last Saturday morning, says the Catholic Sentinel, 45 children were made the happy recipients of first communion at the Cathedral. An efficient choir under the leadership of Rev. A. J. Glorieux, rendered several suitable hymns. Very Rev. J. F. Freres, V. G., addressed the children on the important Christian duty they were about to perform, and admonished them to persevere to the end in the purity of that Christian life upon which they had that day entered. Just prior to High Mass, Archbishop Blanchet administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to 68 persons, many of them adults.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.—To-day the Democracy of the city of Portland will hold their primaries from 6 to 8 o'clock P. M., at the following polling places: First Ward, at No. 3's Engine House; Second Ward, No. 1's Engine House; Third Ward, No. 4's Engine House. These primaries are for the purpose of electing delegates to the city convention, to be held at the county court room, tomorrow (Saturday), at 10 o'clock A. M., to place in the field a city ticket. The respective Wards are entitled to the following delegates: First Ward, 7; Second Ward, 5; Third Ward, 3; total, 15.

SURPRISE PARTY.—An impromptu surprise was given Mrs. Robert J. Ladd on Wednesday evening. The lady has a host of friends, and without much preparation about thirty of them took it suddenly into their heads to take the family mansion unawares. Indeed the household were just about retiring for the night when the company arrived. Dancing and social games were indulged in until the midnight hour had come and gone, when the company departed in as good spirits as when they came.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The ladies of Lee Chapel in Tibbetts' addition to East Portland, propose to hold a strawberry festival this evening. The church is about a mile from the ferry, on the railroad, and many in this city would doubtless find it a pleasant promenade to go over. The ladies of this church are justly noted for the good things prepared for guests. There are to be literary exercises also. Admission free. Supper 25 cents.

EXAMINATION IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—To-day examinations in the public schools will be held as follows: For admission to the High School, 9 A. M. to 12 M., Mental Arithmetic; Grammar schools, 9 to 12, grammar, Class A, 2d and 3d grades; primary schools, Class 6th, North School, and Class E, North School; Drawing, Class A, 6th grade, Central School; Miscellaneous Class B, 5th grade.

HOSPITAL IMPROVEMENTS.—Owing to the rapidly increasing number of patients received at St. Vincent's Hospital in this city, the Sisters of Charity contemplate erecting a spacious edifice as a fever ward. There are at present forty-seven patients under medical attendance.

AMUSEMENTS.

MR FARLEY'S BENEFIT.—Last evening Mr. Geo. F. Tilbury, agent for the English and Comic Opera Company, returned from up the valley. He reports having met with very good success during the tour through the interior. After all the company has concluded to give their farewell performance at New Market Theater Saturday evening. On this occasion Mr. Ed. Farley, who is a very great favorite with this public, will be the recipient of a benefit. A splendid bill will be presented on this their last appearance—Lecocq's charming comic opera "La Fille de Madame Angot," with the following cast: Clairette, Miss Jeannie Winston; Lange, Miss Rose Chappelle; Aramathe, Miss Rose Chappelle; Trenitz (a dandy), Mr. A. H. Bell; Larivandiere (a diplomatist), Mr. E. Farley; Ange Piton (a poet), Mr. W. H. Tilla; Louis Bodecker, musical director.

TOUR OF THE WORLD.—The members of Bert's Dramatic Company are all on board the steamer George W. Elder, which will be due here to-morrow. This is perhaps one of the largest theatrical combinations which has ever visited Portland, and if we are to judge from the numerous flattering notices given their performances elsewhere, they are certain to delight the theater-goers of Portland. Next Monday a brief dramatic season will be inaugurated at Newmarket Theater. The Stockton Independent, in speaking of the performance in that city, says: There is a fascination about this extravagant play ("Tour o' the World in Eighty Days") and the absurdly improbable fiction upon which it is founded, that is a constant attraction wherever it is presented. It is therefore not surprising that for sixty consecutive nights it drew crowded houses in San Francisco, nor that its third performance in Stockton attracted another crowded house scarcely smaller than on its first presentation. The more utterly absurd and improbable a play is, the better, apparently, will it draw, if it be marked by a plentiful sprinkling of startling incidents and striking situations. It has been a matter of surprise that it was so well put upon our small and inconvenient stage, as so much depends upon the spectacular effect given it elsewhere; but the excellence of the acting has compensated for any mechanical defects that an audience could readily supply by the imagination. The parts are said to have been fully as well taken as by the actors who presented the play in San Francisco, that of Passepartout, the Frenchman, particularly, being even superior. The troupe go from here to Sacramento, taking with them our best wishes.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The firm of McGinn and Boire has been dissolved—the former retiring.

One of the most popular summer resorts this season will be the Sea View, on the beach three miles from Upity. Mr. J. L. Stout, an old resident, has charge of the place, and will make it a pleasant locality for tourists.

Fishel & Roberts are spreading themselves, judging from late announcements. Well, if they can't do what they profess, it would be useless to place any reliance in anything that may be said. A glance at their stock is sufficient guarantee that they have the most complete stock in the city.

PICNIC.

The Taylor street and North Portland M. E. Sunday Schools will hold their picnic in the grove near Vancouver to-morrow, Saturday the 16th inst. The fine steamer City of Salem will leave Pacific wharf, foot of Salmon street, with the picnickers at 8:30 o'clock A. M., sharp, returning to Portland about 5 P. M. the same day. Gill's or at the wharf the morning of starting. No excursion to the Cascades. Tickets for round trip: Adults, 50 cents; children, 25 cents.

CATTLE ORDINANCES.

Attention was called in the OREGONIAN several weeks ago to the dangerous practice of driving large bands of half wild and vicious cattle through the streets during daytime, and, so suggesting the advisability of passing an ordinance to prevent the same. Acting upon the suggestions, the Common Council, at a meeting held on the evening of the 6th instant, passed an ordinance which was designed to prevent in future the driving of cattle through the public streets of the city. The ordinance prohibited any person from driving any cattle except milch cows, through the city north of Harrison street, east of Ninth and North Tenth, and south of G street, between the hours of 6 in the morning and 12 at night. This ordinance it was found would work great hardship to butchers and drovers, and at the last meeting of the Council an ordinance was introduced amendatory of the one passed. The amended ordinance permitted persons to drive cattle along Front street. Otherwise the hours and prohibited limits of the preceding ordinance remained unchanged. It was claimed that unless the ordinance was thus amended it would prove a serious obstacle to our butchers, who were compelled to drive cattle through the city in order to reach the slaughter houses situated beyond the corporate limits. The ordinance passed to its second reading, but being objected to, was laid over under the rule. Councilman Lambert objected to the passage of the ordinance without further consideration of and examination into the subject. He stated that he did not oppose the ordinance as amended, but before voting he desired to more thoroughly investigate the question. He was in favor of preparing an ordinance which would not operate to the manifest injury of any class, and one that at the same time would stand the most rigid legal scrutiny. The subject provoked considerable discussion among the members, and was finally referred to the appropriate committee, with instructions to submit an ordinance at the next meeting of the council. As the provision of the ordinance remained in full force and effect, an ordinance was introduced and passed which suspended the operation of ordinance No. 1,987 until June 21st—next Thursday.

At the last meeting of the council Mr. Stephens reported an ordinance amendatory to ordinance No. 1,088, relating to certain animals and fowls, and prohibiting them from running at large within certain limits. The ordinance was read twice and laid over. It will come up on its third reading at the next meeting, and will undoubtedly become a law. For the general information of the public we give the substance of the ordinance: Between the hours of 6 A. M. and 7 P. M. of each day, horses, mules or cattle may be allowed to run at large outside of the following limits: Commencing at the foot of Sheridan street; thence along the south line of said street to the west line of Fifth street; thence along said west line of Fifth street to the south line of Jackson street; thence along the south line of Jackson street to the west line of Ninth street; thence along said west line of Ninth street to the south line of Main street; thence along the south line of Main street to the west line of Tenth street; thence along said last-named line to the south line of Yamhill street; thence along said south line to the west line of Lownsdale street; thence along said line to the north line of Alder street; thence along said line to the west line of Twelfth street; thence along said last named line to the intersection thereof with the south line of B street; thence along said line to the west line of North Sixteenth street; thence along said last named line to the north line of M street; thence along the north line of M street to the Willamette river.

D. D. Orton was bitten on the finger by a rattlesnake a few days ago in Wasco county. He swallowed half a pint of alcohol, which he soon threw up, together with his dinner which he had just eaten. He then mounted a horse and rode twelve miles at the top of his speed to DesChutes Ferry House. By this time his arm and the whole of one side of the body were swollen in a terrible manner. Some indigo steeped in sweet milk was the only thing that could be obtained. This he drank and vomited again. He recovered by next day, but it was a narrow escape.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 15, 1877.

COMMENCEMENT AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 14, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Salem may now be considered as full to repletion. We would be glad to accommodate all our visiting friends from abroad, but with the Circuit Court and State Medical Society in session, and the near approach of the Pioneers' Reunion, and all the attractive exercises of Commencement week, we find ourselves somewhat pressed for house room and would rather have the rest of you postpone your visits until the State Fair or some less busy and more convenient season. There is now as always during Commencement seasons, a good delegation from Portland. Old familiar faces are appearing which we never see except on these occasions. Every year the circle is growing larger, and the family group that gathers around the altar of alma mater is increasing in strength and numbers. To many this is one of the choicest pleasures of the whole year, and all else is sacrificed for the privilege of meeting old time friends in the halls hallowed by the associations of earlier years. Few friendships are more lasting or more fragrant than those formed in the school room and cemented by years of association there, and as the shadows of the past grow deeper and we look back, friendships at first little noted or cherished become strengthened and every trivial little incident is recalled with pleasure and serves as a strand to strengthen the cable of love and affection. The fullness of joy we experience in meeting and mingling on these occasions is always followed by a tinge of sadness when the unwelcome hour for parting comes. Death now and then invades our ranks and steals away a cherished member; but despite his work, we continue each year to gather in strength and honor. The Alumni Association of the Willamette University now numbers 150 members. The first graduate, Miss Emily J. Moore, received her degree in 1859; the second, Mrs. Addie Locy Reasoner, in 1862. In 1863 a class of two ve members was graduated, and since that time each year has seen a class go forth. The business meeting of the Alumni was held yesterday afternoon in one of the halls of the University. To the members of the association this is usually even a more enjoyable occasion than the reunion proper, which is held in the evening. There is always about the latter somewhat of stiffness and formality, and to know what an old-fashioned good time is, you should drop in at the business meetings and hear the letters from absent members of the association and see in them the characteristics of the writers, listen to the flow of wit and humor, and experience that delicious want of formality and restraint which always characterizes these occasions. At the meeting held yesterday the following officers were chosen by the alumni: President, P. L. Willis of '65; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Emily J. Moore of the class of '59; Thomas H. Crawford of '63; Syl. C. Simpson of '64; Presley M. Denny of '65; Mrs. Helen M. Stratton of '66; Mrs. J. A. Stowell of '67; Miss Angie Grubbe of '68; Julius A. Stratton of '69, Mrs. Mattie E. Scott of '70; Mrs. . B. Stillwell of '71; Mrs. Dora P. Killingsworth of '72; Alfred Nichols of '73; John Duncan of '74; M. G. Royal of '75; Miss Teresa D. Holderness of '76, and Quincy A. Grubbe of '77. Secretary, Charles B. Moores of '70. Treasurer, Miss Marie E. Smith of '66. Executive Committee, Henry H. Gilfry of '68 and Miss Clara A. Watt of '66. Orator for '78, Stanley O. Royal; for '79, Jos. A. Sellwood. Poet for '78, Mrs. F. H. Grubbe; for '79, Sam L. Simpson. Essayist for '78, Miss Phebe Jory; for '79, Mrs. E. K. Miller. Annalist for '78, J. M. Garrison; for '79, Syl. C. Simpson. Representative member of the Board of Trustees, H. H. Hewitt. The public exercises of the alumni association took place last evening in the chapel of the university, which was crowded to its fullest capacity. They were opened by an instrumental duett by Misses Elva Breyman and Teresa Holderness, which was followed by the introduction of the class of '77 in a speech by Mr. J. R. N. Selwood: [The sheet containing a portion of Mr. Sellwood's address is missing from the correspondence—Ed.] The address was full of excellent thoughts, and closed with a retrospective glance at the past life of the speaker and his old associates, and with words of earnest hope that they had learned in a measure to meet and master many of the difficulties of life. The Annual Address was followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Elva Breyman, after which an essay upon the subject of "Stumps," written by Mrs. Gertrude E. Miller, of the class of 1870. It was read by Mrs. Mattie E. Scott, of the same class, owing to the absence of Mrs. Miller in California, on account of broken health. The writer, after begging the audience to apply the theories of Calvin and to assume that the essay had been simply transcribed by her helpless hand from a manuscript that had been laid away for years, said that it had been written not with a desire to court criticism, but with a modest hope that it might add to the pleasures of this social and literary reunion. In all our journey along the great pathway of life, we are ever stumbling against obstructing stumps. We find them in all the intercourse of life and in every relation of society. They obstruct us in morals, in politics, in religion. Yet in our contact with all these, we may find a lesson—a lesson, perhaps, that simply teaches us to avoid certain courses—a lesson that is such only in the negative way of example. There is the social stump, gnarled and twisted and tough-grained; there is the old theological stump that rises up like a dreary prison wall against every pleasure legitimate or otherwise; there is that disagreeable old stump, the professional croaker who feels in his very bones that everything is about to go to destruction. We may in our intercourse with people never run counter to those character stics in them which give them their character as stumps, but, liable as we are to do so, we should cultivate the habit of thought and when we do come in contact with them, make them the means of teaching us something through the force of example. The essay of Mrs. Miller was followed by a vocal solo sung by Mrs. Helen M. Stratton, one of the very best features of the whole evening's programme. The next exercise was one which did not appear upon the programme. The member selected to prepare a poem for the occasion had failed to respond, but at a late hour in the afternoon a most exquisite production written by Sam. L. Simpson of '66 was received. This was read by Chas. B. Moores of '70. The poem was one of the best of all the fine poems ever written by Mr. Simpson, and was entitled "Wreck." It gave us a vivid picture of the sea in its pleasant and its angry moods, and of a ship proudly sailing out upon the bosom of the great ocean to suffer its storms and its waves only to be landed in the end a stranded wreck upon the rocky shore. The poet then compared the course of the ship and its final fate to that of many a human bark tossed and buffeted on the ocean of life and finally reaching the journey's end in total wreck. Nothing but the poem itself will indicate the merits of the production.

The Annals of the Association came next upon the programme. These were written and read by Syl. C. Simpson of '64—which is a sufficient indication of their merit. This is usually the most enjoyable feature of the exercises of the annual Alumni reunions. Mr. Simpson opened with a most beautiful and feeling allusion to the past and the absence of some of the cherished members with whom he had been accustomed to mingle, but with whom we were never to meet again. His production began then to assume a merry vein, until the whole audience became convulsed with laughter over his merrier sallies at the expense of the various members of the Association. At the conclusion of the Annals an anthem was sung and the public exercises concluded with a benediction by Rev. Mr. Russ, after which the Alumni, with invited friends, repaired to the large hall of the Hesperian and Concordia societies and there indulged in refreshments and all the other pleasant etceteras which always belong to such occasions. Thus ended the 11th annual reunion of the Alumni Association of the Willamette University.

At a meeting held by the trustees of the University yesterday afternoon the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Rev. J. L. Parrish; vice president, J. H. Moores; secretary and agent, J. A. Stratton; treasurer, J. H. Albert. C. B. M.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Finabcial.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 14, 1877.

Gold in New York, 105.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying 91; selling, 93.

Silver Coin—1½@3 per cent. discount.

The day has been one of a fair amount of transactions in financial and trade circles, and business men generally are hopeful of the future. The movement of the wool clip and spring catch of salmon is drawing out some of the surplus capital in the market, but the amount demanded is met with a freedom which shows an ample supply. Rates on loans and discounts, while showing but little or no actual general decline, are still easy, and borrowers find no difficulty in having their wants supplied. The aggregate loanable funds in the market are larger than usual at this season of the year.

Domestic Produce

The week past has been one of only moderate activity, generally in nearly all articles of home production, though some exceptions are noticeable. Wheat, flour and oats have all declined, both as to the volume of receipts and transactions and quotations. Shipments are also declining, and a few more scattering lots will wind up the exports of these commodities for the harvest year. Prices are still reported, but outside from a limited business to supply the local trade, they are entirely nominal. Mill feed, hay, etc., are in fair supply, and with the limited demand prices are barely sustained. Provisions are weaker, and some lines have declined; lard has depreciated 1@1½ cents per pound, and bacon is dull at quotations. Dairy products, abundant to meet the current demand, with a moderate inquiry for shipping and the usual local trade. Eggs are a little scarcer to day, and jobbing rates are 18 cents per dozen for fair lots, but all can not be placed at such figures. Hides and peltry in good demand, and trade exhibits about the usual activity. Wool is coming forward quite freely now, and growers are realizing full rates. The splendid quality of Oregon wools has won for them an enviable place in the Eastern markets. There has been an advance of ½ to 1 cent per pound since a week ago, and buyers are free to take all offering at current quotations.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Country to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish.

JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus; that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer, also the diseased portion of bone and pituitary gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Your's Truly, JOHN BALLARD.
Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.

PRATT'S

MINERAL

OIL.

300° FIRE TEST.

Chas. Pratt & Co., New York,

Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers.

To Consumers of High Fire-Test Mineral Oils.

YOUR ATTENTION IS PARTICULARLY INvited to our 300° Fire-Test Oil, called "Pratt's Mineral Colza," which we are now manufacturing expressly for STEAMSHIP, RAILROAD and MILL ILLUMINATION, or for use where an exceedingly high Fire-Test Oil is required. It has already been adopted by many of the Railroads throughout the country, and by most of the coastwise steamers sailing from New York, whose continuance of its use in preference to all similar Oils is sufficient commendation as to its quality. It will not burn well in the ordinary Petroleum Lamp, it being of too heavy gravity for such use; but in the German Student Lamps and those with the wick burners, we guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction producing a pure flame of great brilliancy. Our facilities for manufacturing are excellent, and equal to any demand, while the price is much lower than that of any oil in the market of the same character and fire test. The U. S. law in regard to the use of these Oils on passenger steamers is very explicit, as follows:

"Any Oil which will stand a Fire Test of Three Hundred (300°) Degrees Fahrenheit, may be carried as freight or used as stores on any steamer carrying passengers."

We beg to offer the following Certificates, which have been handed us from the very best authorities obtainable, in regard to the test of the Mineral Coloza Oil, and they may be considered perfectly reliable:

Report of Prof. S. Dana Hayes, Massachusetts State Assayer.

[COPY.] BOSTON, MASS., Oct 19th, 1876

A sample of burning Oil, marked Mineral Coloza, manufactured by CHARLES PRATT & Co., of New York City, has been tested by me with the following result: It has a Fire Test of 328° Fahrenheit. It does not ignite under 328° F.

Report of Inspector of Petroleum Oil, for State of Massachusetts.

[COPY.] BOSTON, October 4th 1876.

I have tested samples of Mineral Coloza Oil, from CHARLES PRATT & Co., New York City, and find the igniting point or Fire Test to be 328° Fahrenheit. (Signed) R. F. MEANS.

Report on Sample of Mineral Coloza Oil, Tested for U. S. Inspector of Steamers 2d District.

[COPY.] NEW YORK, April 25th, 1876.

Mr. Addison Low, U. S. Sub. Inspector.

DEAR SIR: We have tested the sample of Mineral Coloza Oil presented by you and find it stands a Fire Test of 300° Fahrenheit, and we consider it in all respects a very superior Oil.

(Signed) LOCKWOOD, BROS. & HOLLY.

To the Trade.

The undersigned beg to call your attention to all of the above, and thus advise you that they will at all times have a full supply of the above mentioned goods on hand, and would be pleased to have your orders.

COMMENCEMENT AT SALEM.

SALEM, June 14, 1877.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Salem may now be considered as full to repletion. We would be glad to accommodate all our visiting friends from abroad, but with the Circuit Court and State Medical Society in session, and the near approach of the Pioneers' Reunion, and all the attractive exercises of Commencement week, we find ourselves somewhat pressed for house room and would rather have the rest of you postpone your visits until the State Fair or some less busy and more convenient season. There is now, as always during Commencement seasons, a good delegation from Portland. Old familiar faces are appearing which we never see except on these occasions. Every year the circle is growing larger, and the family group that gathers around the altar of alma mater is increasing in strength and numbers. To many this is one of the choicest pleasures of the whole year, and all else is sacrificed for the privilege of meeting old time friends in the halls hallowed by the associations of earlier years. Few friendships are more lasting or more fragrant than those formed in the school room and cemented by years of association there, and as the shadows of the past grow deeper and we look back, friendships at first little noted or cherished become strengthened and every trivial little incident is recalled with pleasure and serves as a strand to strengthen the cable of love and affection. The fullness of joy we experience in meeting and mingling on these occasions is always followed by a tinge of sadness when the unwelcome hour for parting comes. Death now and then invades our ranks and steals away a cherished member; but despite his work, we continue each year to gather in strength and honor. The Alumni Association of the Willamette University now numbers 150 members. The first graduate, Miss Emily J. Moore, received her degree in 1859; the second, Mrs. Addie Locy Reasoner, in 1862. In 1863 a class of twelve members was graduated, and since that time each year has seen a class go forth. The business meeting of the Alumni was held yesterday afternoon in one of the halls of the University. To the members of the association this is usually even a more enjoyable occasion than the reunion proper, which is held in the evening. There is always about the latter somewhat of stiffness and formality, and to know what an old-fashioned good time is, you should drop in at the business meetings and hear the letters from absent members of the association and see in them the characteristics of the writers, listen to the flow of wit and humor, and experience that delicious want of formality and restraint which always characterizes these occasions. At the meeting held yesterday the following officers were chosen by the alumni: President, P. L. Willis of '65; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Emily J. Moore of the class of '59; Thomas H. Crawford of '63; Syl. C. Simpson of '64; Presley M. Denny of '65; Mrs. Helen M. Stratton of '66; Mrs. J. A. Stowell of '67; Miss Angie Grubbe of '68; Julius A. Stratton of '69, Mrs. Mattie E. Scott of '70; Mrs. J. B. Stillwell of '71; Mrs. Dora P. Killingsworth of '72; Alfred Nichols of '73; John Duncan of '74; M. G. Royal of '75; Miss Teresa D. Holderness of '76, and Quincy A. Grubbe of '77. Secretary, Charles B. Moores of '70. Treasurer, Miss Marie E. Smith of '66. Executive Committee, Henry H. Gilfry of '68 and Miss Clara A. Watt of '64. Orator for '78, Stanley O. Royal; for '79, Jos. A. Sellwood. Poet for '78, Mrs. F. H. Grubbe; for '79, Sam'l. Simpson. Essayist for '78, Miss Phœbe Jory; for '79, Mrs. E. K. Miller. Annalist for '78, J. M. Garrison; for '79, Syl. C. Simpson. Representative of the Board of Trustees, H. H. Hewitt. The public exercises of the alumni association took place last evening in the chapel of the university, which was crowded to its fullest capacity. They were opened by an instrumental duett by Misses Elva Breyman and Teresa Holderness, which was followed by the introduction of the class of '77 in a speech by Mr. J. R. N. Sellwood; the sheet containing a portion of Mr. Sellwood's address is missing from the correspondence—ED.] The address was full of excellent thoughts, and closed with a retrospective glance at the past life of the speaker and his old associates, and with words of earnest hope that they had learned in a measure to meet and master many of the difficulties of life. The Annual Address was followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Elva Breyman, after which an essay upon the subject of "Stumps," written by Mrs. Gertrude E. Miller, of the class of 1870, was read by Mrs. Mattie E. Scott of the same class, owing to the absence of Mrs. Miller in California, on account of broken health. The writer, after begging the audience to apply the theories of Calvin and to assume that the essay had been simply transcribed by her helpless hand from a manuscript that had been laid away for years, said that it had been written not with a desire to court criticism, but with a modest hope that it might add to the pleasures of this social and literary reunion. In all our journey along the great pathway of life, we are ever stumbling against obstructing stumps. We find them in all the intercourse of life and in every relation of society. They obstruct us in morals, in politics, in religion. Yet in our contact with all these, we may find a lesson—a lesson, perhaps, that simply teaches us to avoid certain courses—a lesson that is such only in the negative way of example. There is the social stump, gnarled and twisted and tough-grained; there is the old theological stump that rises up like a dreary prison wall against every pleasure legitimate or otherwise; there is that disagreeable old stump, the professional croaker who feels in his very bones that everything is about to go to destruction. We may in our intercourse with people never run counter to those characteristics in them which give them their character as stumps, but, liable as we are to do so, we should cultivate the habit of thought and when we do come in contact with them, make them the means of teaching us something through the force of example. The essay of Mrs. Miller was followed by a vocal solo sung by Mrs. Helen M. Gratton, one of the very best features of the whole evening's programme. The next exercise was one which did not appear upon the programme. The member selected to prepare a poem for the occasion had failed to respond, but at a late hour in the afternoon a most exquisite production, written by Sam. L. Simpson of '66 was received. This was read by Chas. B. Moores of '70. The poem was one of the best of all the fine poems ever written by Mr. Simpson, and was entitled "Wreck." It gave us a vivid picture of the ocean in its pleasant and dangerous moods, and of a ship proudly sailing out upon the bosom of the great ocean to outride its storms and its waves only to be landed in the end a stranded wreck upon the rocky shore. The poet then compared the course of the ship and its final fate to that of many a human bark tossed and buffeted on the ocean of life and finally reaching the journey's end a total wreck. Nothing but the poem itself will indicate the merits of the production.

The Annals of the Association came next upon the programme. These were written and read by Syl. C. Simpson of '64, which is a sufficient indication of their merit. This is usually the most enjoyable feature of the exercises of the annual Alumni reunions. Mr. Simpson opened with a most beautiful and feeling allusion to the past and the absence of some of the cherished members with whom he had been accustomed to mingle, but with whom we were never to meet again. His production began then to assume a merry vein, until the whole audience became convulsed with laughter over his mercier sallies at the expense of the various members of the Association. At the conclusion of the Annals an anthem was sung and the public exercises concluded with a benediction by Rev. Mr. Russ, after which the Alumni, with invited friends, repaired to the large hall of the Hesperian and Concordia societies and there indulged in refreshments and all the other pleasant etceteras which always belong to such occasions. Thus ended the 11th annual reunion of the Alumni Association of the Willamette University.

At a meeting held by the trustees of the University yesterday afternoon the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: President, Rev. J. L. Parrish; vice president, J. H. Moores; secretary and agent, J. A. Stratton; treasurer, J. H. Albert. C. B. M.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 14, 1877.

Gold in New York, 105.

Legal Tenders in Portland—buying 94, selling, 95.

Silver Coin—4½@5 per cent. discount.

The day has been one of a fair amount of transactions in financial and trade circles, and business men generally are hopeful of the future. The movement of the wool clip and spring catch of salmon is drawing out some of the surplus capital in the market, but the amount demanded is met with a freedom which shows an ample supply. Rates on loans and discounts, while showing but little or no actual general decline, are still easy, and borrowers find no difficulty in having their wants supplied. The aggregate loanable funds in the market are larger than usual at this season of the year.

Domestic Produce

The week past has been one of only moderate activity, generally in nearly all articles of home production, though some exceptions are noticeable. Wheat, flour and oats have all declined, both as to the volume of receipts and transactions and quotations. Shipments are also declining, and a few more scattering lots will wind up the exports of these commodities for the harvest year. Prices are still reported, but outside from a limited business to supply the local trade, they are entirely nominal. Mill feed, hay, etc., are in fair supply, and with the limited demand prices are barely sustained. Provisions are weaker, and some lines have declined; lard has depreciated 1@1½ cents per pound, and bacon is dull at quotations. Dairy products, abundant to meet the current demand, with a moderate inquiry for shipping and the usual local trade. Eggs are a little scarcer to day, and jobbing rates are 18 cents per dozen for fair lots, but all can not be placed at such figures. Hides and poultry in good demand, and trade exhibits about the usual activity. Wool is coming forward quite freely now, and growers are realizing full rates. The splendid quality of Oregon wools has won for them an enviable place in the Eastern markets. There has been an advance of ½ to 1 cent per pound since a week ago, and buyers are free to take all offering at current quotations.

WONDERFUL SUCCESS

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

In the Treatment of Chronic Disease.

Positive Proof of his Wonderful Skill.

Testimony that Cannot be Contradicted.

Reliable Witnesses Testifying What he has Done for Them.

Perfect Cures where all other Treatment had Failed.

Crowds Coming from all Parts of the Country to Visit Him.

The Following Certificates Speak for Themselves:

TO DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—

For the past year and a half I have been suffering from Nervous and General Debility, Kidney Disease, Loss of Flesh and Strength, dizziness in the head and a constant pain through the back and loins. I became so debilitated and broken down that I was unfitted for business. I have been to Victoria and all over the coast under medical treatment for the past nine months, without receiving any benefit whatever, and had almost given up hopes of ever recovering, until I came under your treatment, about seven weeks ago. From the very first your treatment seemed to work like a charm, and I constantly improved from the beginning. I have gained 14 pounds of flesh, and I am now, thanks to your skillful treatment, perfectly well, and am able to return to my business on the Snohomish.

JAMES KING.

Seattle, March 31, 1877.

To the People: I have been troubled with chronic Nasal Catarrh for years, the disease being so aggravated that there was constantly an effusion of matter passing down into my throat behind the palate and down through my nostrils.

My nose became depressed between the eyes and swollen on each side. I was told by physicians that it was a polypus; that some of the blood vessels were involved and that the removal would endanger my life by hemorrhage. I became so bad that I made up my mind that I must have immediate relief or die.

As a last resort I applied to Dr. Paul M. Brenan, who, after a moment's examination, determined what to do. He said the nasal bone was involved and diseased, and that there would have to be a portion of it removed. He at once removed the bone tumor containing the ulcer, also the diseased portion of bone and pituetary gland and cured the catarrh. I am now perfectly well and as free from disease as ever I was in my life.

THOMAS D. MURPHY.

Seattle, April 5th, 1877.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I am now a well man. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the suffering to you who can relieve and cure them.

Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD.

Employed at Colman's Saw Mill, Seattle.

[I will not publish any cures performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.]

PAUL M. BRENAN.

Dr. Brenan can be consulted, free of charge, at his office at the Clarendon Hotel, from 10 to 12 A. M., and at rooms 6 and 7 in Corbett's Block, corner of Front and Washington streets, Portland, Oregon, from 1 to 5, and 7 to 8 P. M.

PRATT'S MINERAL COLOZA OIL.

300° FIRE TEST.

Chas. Pratt & Co., New York,

Sole Proprietors and Manufacturers.

To Consumers of High Fire-Test Mineral Oils.

YOUR ATTENTION IS PARTICULARLY INvited to our 300° Fire-Test Oil, called "Pratt's Mineral Coloza," which we are now manufacturing expressly for STEAMBOAT, RAILROAD and MILL ILLUMINATION, or for use where an exceedingly high Fire-Test Oil is required. It has already been adopted by many of the Railroads throughout the country, and by most of the coastwise steamers sailing from New York, whose continuance of its use in preference to all similar Oils is sufficient commendation as to its quality. It will not burn well in the ordinary Petroleum Lamp. It being of too heavy gravity for such use; but in the German Student Lamp and those with double wick burners, we guarantee it to give perfect satisfaction producing a pure flame of great brilliancy. Our facilities for manufacturing are excellent, and equal to any demand, while the price is much lower than that of any oil in the market of the same character and fire test. The U. S. law in regard to the use of these Oils on passenger steamers is very explicit, as follows:

"Any Oil which will stand a Fire Test of Three Hundred (300°) Degrees Fahrenheit, may be carried as freight or used as stores on any steamer carrying passengers."

We beg to offer the following Certificates, which have been handed us from the very best authorities obtainable, in regard to the test of the Mineral Coloza Oil, and they may be considered perfectly reliable:

Report of Prof. S. Dana Hayes, Massachusetts State Assayer.

[COPY.] BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 19th, 1876

A sample of burning Oil, marked Mineral Coloza, manufactured by CHARLES PRATT & Co., of New York City, has been tested by me with the following result: It has a Fire Test of 338° Fahrenheit. It does not ignite under 328° F.

Report of Inspector of Petroleum Oil, for State of Massachusetts.

BOSTON, October 4th 1876.

I have tested samples of Mineral Coloza Oil, from CHARLES PRATT & Co., New York City, and find the igniting point or Fire Test to be 335° Fahrenheit. (Signed) R. P. MEANS, Mass. State Inspector of Petroleum.

Report on Sample of Mineral Coloza Oil, Tested for U. S. Inspector of Steamers 2d District.

New York, April 25th, 1876.

MR. ADDISON LOW, U. S. Sub. Inspector.

DEAR SIR: We have tested the sample of Mineral Coloza Oil presented by you, and find it stands a Fire Test of 300° Fahrenheit, and we consider it in all respects a very superior Oil.

(Signed) LOCKWOOD, BROS. & HOLLY,
Petroleum Inspectors appointed by N. Y. City Produce Exchange.

To the Trade.

The undersigned beg to call your attention to all of the above, and thus advise you that they will at all times have a full supply of the above mentioned goods on hand, and would be pleased to have your orders.
